Curriculum Vitae

Joan Wallach Scott is Harold F. Linder Professor of Social Science at the Institute for Advanced Study.

Before arriving at the Institute, she taught at Brown University, where she was founding director of the Pembroke Center for Teaching and Research on Women.

Among her books are Gender and the Politics of History; Only Paradoxes to Offer: French Feminists and the Rights of Man; and, most recently, Parité: Sexual Equality and the Crisis of French Universalism.

Last year, Professor Scott received an honorary degree from the university of Bergen in Norway. In 1999, she was awarded the Hans Sigrist Prize from the University of Bern (Switzerland) for outstanding scholarship in the field of Gender Studies
